MOUNTING LOCATION FOR SATELLITE DISH

The primary choice location is either inside or on the outside of the air conditioning cages. If your roof does not have an a/c cage, then an eve mounting location is the only choice. All wires must be secured to the siding or trim boards and must be run the shortest possible distance over the roof and on the outside of the building. Once the wire meets the ground level it must be buried at least six inches below grade level.

This mounting location at the peak of the eve is the secondary choice location.

All installations and wiring must meet current electrical and safety codes.

Direct TV and Dish Network

Both DirectTV & Dish Network implemented a policy that their employees/ technicians cannot leave their ladders, therefore, cannot get on any type of roofs whatsoever. Owners can contact Spoda Communications to set up their service just as they would if they called DirectTV or Dish Network directly and Spoda Communications offers the same services and deals as both satellite companies as well. The only difference is Spoda Communications will install the satellite dishes inside the A/C boxes, located on the roofs, Spoda Communications (Independent installer/provider for Dish Network & DirectTV) 281/359-1212 or 713/205-2446.
